To Librarians and Book Committees:

THIS list is intended as an aid to librarians and others who have occasion to purchase books for new Town, School, or Club Libraries or for additions to established Libraries.

We have aimed to select representative books upon subjects which are of interest to the average reader and those books which supplement the Public School curriculum. The lists of books recommended by State Library Commissions and educational bodies have been consulted and every endeavor has been made to have the list conform to the standard of the best library authorities. The number of titles under each subject has been carefully considered, and its different parts have been so proportioned that the list, if purchased as a whole, would constitute a well-arranged and properly balanced library. Only the representative books of each author have been placed in the General List ; complete sets and "series" appear in the special list which follows it.

A special quotation is made on purchases at one time of all the books named in the Standard Library Catalogue and estimates are submitted on selections from it.

Local conditions naturally govern largely the selection of books for public use, and no absolute rule for proportion can be laid down, but the following percentage table for book purchases is used and recommended by some Library Commissions :

To Librarians.

Fiction, 30% ; History and Biography, 15% ; Literature, 12% ; Travel, 9% ; Social Science and Education, 8% ; Natural Science, 8% ; Useful Arts, 6% ; Fine Arts, 5% ; Religion, 3% ; Reference Books, 4%. One in ten of the whole number should be adapted to young people.

In dealing with our house librarians have the advantage of contact with a special department which keeps in touch with the official associations and commissions having in charge the matter of general library establishment and development. Our stock is one of the largest, if not the largest general collection of books in the country, and is supplemented by our immediate access to the enormous resources of the general New York book market.

We invite correspondence and seek opportunities to submit estimates on proposed purchases as the best evidence of our favorable terms to purchasers, whom we assure of a prompt and, as nearly as possible, complete filling of their orders. We issue Clearance Catalogues, occasional numbers of Librarians' Help Series, a Monthly Bulletin of new and noteworthy books, this Standard Library Catalogue of 2500 Approved Books and other material of interest to book buyers, all of which will be mailed on application.

It is a rich repository, however, of wise, pithy and witty sayings in passages of from a single line to a page or more in length. Dr. Peters' compilation places hundreds of these within the reach of English-speaking people, and forms an attractive reference book of apt and striking quotations from a hitherto somewhat inaccessible source.
